

ENG1001	English Bridge Program	Fall 2025
Class Time: 8:30/10:30AM	Section Number: L15/16/17/41
Classroom Location: TD203/209	Instructor: PANG Hui
email: panghui@cuhk.edu.cn	Office: TXB521

Course Description:

ENG 1001 (EBP) is the first in a series of four courses to improve student ability to read, write, listen, and speak in English. The goal is for students to learn to communicate accurately, efficiently, and with confidence in an academic context. To accomplish this, the program approaches English in a systematic way through an integrated series of assignments linking reading, writing, listening, and speaking. The assignments progress from simple to more complex, adding skills and building on what students learn. The program covers word forms, sentence-level grammar, the writing process, paragraph and paper organization, writing style, basic citation, reading skills, listening skills, and public speaking skills.

The program provides carefully selected theme-based readings and videos to students. These are challenging enough to help students improve in their reading and listening. Students integrate this reading and listening into classroom discussion of the assigned material and short writing assignments. These written and oral assignments allow teachers to offer students individual feedback to help students improve their speaking and writing. During the semester, students will have short in-class writing tasks, and write one graded personal essay (in-class writing test) and one graded response essay (in-class and integrated with the final reading exam). They will also have practice presentations, a formal graded class presentation followed by a short Q&A session, and a final listening exam.

Course Objectives (Knowledge / Skills / Values):

Writing

At the sentence level

- Write clear, simple sentences. (k/s/v)
- Use pronouns, articles, prepositions, and conjunctions correctly. (k/s)
- Understand verb tenses, subject/verb agreement, singular/plural, parts of speech, and the various forms that root words take to express parts of speech. (k)
- Use correct spelling, punctuation, capitalization. (k/s)

At the paragraph level

- Write effective introductions, body paragraphs, and conclusions. (k/s)
- Recognize paragraph boundaries and organize sentences into logical, cohesive paragraphs effectively introduced and unified by a topic sentence. (k/s/v)
- Use supporting details to illustrate or reinforce their main points. (k/s)
- Use transitions to make paragraphs more internally and externally cohesive. (k/s)

At the holistic level

- Use the writing process (prewrite, outline, draft, revise, and proof). (k/s/v)
- Organize a paper to logically develop a single topic or theme. (k/s/v)
- Understand the purpose of formatting and format their work according to the

- stipulated guidelines. (k/s/v)
- Expand their vocabulary to allow for word variety in their writing. (k/s/v)
- Summarize the key ideas of a reading material and respond to it clearly, concisely, and logically. (k/s/v)

Reading

Pre-reading

- Making predictions about a text using textual clues, e.g. headings, images, and genre. (k/s)

Reading

- Skim reading for general understanding/gist. (k/s/v)
- Identify topics and topic sentences in reading. (k/s)
- Scanning for key information in a text. (k/s)
- Reading for detailed understanding. (k/s)
- Recognizing paraphrased language in a text, i.e. the use of wording different from the questions. (k/s)
- Understanding both stated content and inferred meaning. (k/s)
- Using grammar and context to identify the meaning of unknown vocabulary. (k/s)

Post-reading

- Reflecting on the strategies employed in the reading process. (k/s/v)
- Reflecting on the writing style and technique employed in a particular text for the purpose of writing better. (k/s/v)

Speaking

At the language level

- Use correct and consistent grammar. (k/s/v)
- Pronounce words correctly including consonants, consonant clusters, vowels, and syllable emphasis / stress.
- Employ a range of vocabulary. (k/s)
- Employ appropriate language and register. (k/s/v)
- Use transition words appropriately and as needed. (k/s)

At the content level

- Organize content logically, with an effective introduction, body and conclusion. (k/s/v)
- Develop points through evidence and examples. (k/s)
- Maintain focus throughout. (k/s)

At the presentation level

- Speak clearly with appropriate volume, pacing, and pronunciation. (k/s/v)
- Speak from notes (as opposed to reading). (k/s)
- Manage body language and gestures while speaking in order to project confidence and convey meaning. (k/s)

- Engage audience and/or group members in discussion, e.g. through questions and eye contact. (k/s/v)
- Make use of infographics / PowerPoints for presentations that are simple, precise, and grammatically correct. (k/s/v)

Listening

Pre-listening

- Making predictions about content based on theme and title. (k/s)
- Identifying key words in questions as a means of signposting. (k/s)

Listening

- Identifying topics in a given discourse. (k/s)
- Identifying key words and concepts. (k/s)
- Recognizing paraphrased language in an audio text, i.e. the use of wording different from the questions. (k/s)
- Understanding both stated content and inferred meaning. (k/s)

Post-listening

- Reflecting on the strategies employed in the listening process. (k/s)
- Reflecting on speaking style and technique for the purpose of speaking better. (k/s/v)

Integrated Aims

- Paraphrase source information. (k/s)
- Offer basic in-text citation in APA format.
- Understand what plagiarism is, why (and how) it is to be avoided, and its consequences. (k/s/v)

NOTE: (k/s/v) identify goals as relating to knowledge, skills, and values

Grading:

CUHK uses Outcome Based Assessment to determine final grades. This means that you earn your score by your level of achievement in the learning outcomes and objectives as demonstrated by your performance in papers, presentations, and exams. The final grade is based on the total number of points earned. The numerical association with letter grades is only an approximation. The final decision on what mark constitutes what letter grade is made by senior administration at the end of the semester. Their numbers will be applied fairly to all students. The best way to ensure a good grade is to work hard and earn every point that you can.

ASSIGNMENT	PERCENT
Personal essay (In-class writing test)	20%
Individual presentation (with Q&A)	25%
In-class listening exam	15%
In-class reading & writing exam	30%
Participation	10%
TOTAL	100%

Grade Descriptor:

A	Outstanding performance across all learning outcomes and assignments. Excellent participation and leadership in class activities.
A-	Generally outstanding performance on most learning outcomes across all assignments. Excellent participation in class activities.
B RANGE	Substantial skill on all/most outcomes and/or mixed skills (high/med) across some outcomes or skill areas on most assignments. Satisfactory participation in class activities.
C RANGE	Satisfactory skill level on all outcomes with some mixed skills (high/med/low) across outcomes or skill areas on all assignments. Some participation in class activities.
D RANGE	Possesses minimum skill level across most outcomes and skill areas on most assignments so that communication can be understood even with some difficulty. Minimum participation in class activities.
F	Does not achieve sufficient skill in the learning outcomes and objectives to function effectively at the collegiate level. Un-satisfactory effort results in not satisfying minimum requirements on some/all assignments and class participation.

Instruction Modules:

	Module I	Module II	Module III	Module IV
Writing	Personal essay SVO/Fragment/Run-on sentence Pronouns Word choice Wordiness	Introduction Hook Thesis statement Paragraphing Transitions Internal coherence Conclusion	Response essay Introduction to AI tools in language learning (ethical use of tools)	Summary Paraphrase Direct quotation Plagiarism Citing sources (APA in-text citations)
Speaking	Language & voice	Body control	Content	Visual aids

Attendance:

Students are expected to be on time for class and attend the entire class. If you must miss a class, please email your instructor in advance. Medical documentation or other relevant proof is required for an excused absence. If you arrive late, make sure you were not marked absent. Three late classes will equal one absence. Unauthorized use of electronic devices during class will result in an “absence.” If you miss three classes, we will send you a warning notice (and copy your advisor). If you miss nine classes, your final grade will be reduced by two sub-grades. If you miss fourteen or more classes, you fail the course.

Academic Honesty

Attention is drawn to University policy and regulations on honesty in academic work, and to the disciplinary guidelines and procedures applicable to breaches of such policy and regulations. Details may be found at <https://registry.cuhk.edu.cn/en/page/30>.

Course Schedule:

Please see attached.

Class Conduct:

ZERO TOLERANCE HARASSMENT POLICY**

We expect this class to be a safe place for everyone. We will not tolerate harassment in any form. This means that comments, actions, or behaviors intended to provoke, offend, intimidate, denigrate, or coerce anyone on the basis of gender, race, ethnicity, country of origin, sexual orientation, age, disability, political or religious beliefs (or absence thereof), will not be tolerated. Acts of violence, belligerence, and threats (overt or covert) are strictly prohibited. Offenders are subject to university disciplinary proceedings and may be removed from class.

Students are expected to conduct class business as adults in an atmosphere of mutual trust and respect. This is a core democratic value – the ability to accept others as they are regardless of our feelings about them. We recognize that others have the right even to be wrong, and humility teaches us that we would like the same privilege of being accepted despite our differences. While honest and open debate is recognized as a vital part of the university learning environment and encouraged in this class – please try to keep comments helpful without being hurtful, and practical without being personal. There is an art to disagreeing without being disagreeable. If you wonder whether something is okay to say, it probably isn't. When necessary, take the extra minute to consider your words. Write them down and read them to yourself. What is easily spoken may not be so easily taken back.