

Please circle the letter corresponding to the correct answer. Name in Pinyin: _____

SECTION ONE: What we learn before we are born

1. When does learning begin?
 - A. It starts from the first day of preschool or kindergarten.
 - B. It starts from the toddler phase when children are learning how to walk and talk.
 - C. It starts from the moment we are born.
 - D. It starts before we are born, while we're still in the womb.

2. What is being emphasized here in the scientific discipline of fetal origins?
 - A. It emphasizes that the period of gestation has significant impacts on our developmental health and well-being outcomes.
 - B. It emphasizes that our environmental conditions before and immediately after birth are crucial.
 - C. It emphasizes that the first two years of children's lives are important to their health and well-being.
 - D. It emphasizes that the first five years of children's lives are important to their health and well-being.

3. When we hold our babies for the first time, we might imagine that they're _____.
 - A. cute
 - B. beautiful
 - C. flawless
 - D. healthy

4. How do sounds from the outside world reach a fetus?
 - A. Sounds from the outside world have to travel through the mother's abdominal tissue.
 - B. Sounds from the outside world have to travel through the amniotic fluid that surrounds the unborn baby.
 - C. Neither A nor B is right.
 - D. Both A and B are right.

5. Infants cry in the accent of their mother's native language. How do German infants cry?
 - A. German infants tend to cry with a rising melody contour.
 - B. German infants tend to cry with a falling melody contour.
 - C. German infants tend to cry with a flat melody contour.
 - D. German infants tend to produce more complex cry melodies.

SECTION TWO: The danger of science denial

6. When the speaker says "we're now in an epidemic of fear", what does he mean?
 - A. People's fear of diseases makes them believe in anecdotes.
 - B. People tend to believe what makes them feel real instead of scientific data, and this has led to disastrous results.
 - C. People now are able to tell the difference between causation and correlation.
 - D. There was an increase in the number of measles cases around the world last year.

7. According to the speaker, which of the following adjective can best describe Jenny McCarthy's speeches that linked the epidemic of autism to the measles vaccine shot?
 - A. Enlightening.
 - B. Interesting.
 - C. Convincing.
 - D. Misleading.

Please circle the letter corresponding to the correct answer. Name in Pinyin: _____

8. What was one of the biggest contributions Jonas Salk made to mankind?
- A. He developed a rotavirus vaccine.
 - B. He invented “placebo”.
 - C. He developed the polio vaccine.
 - D. He went around talking about vaccines and how important they were.
9. According to the speaker, which of the following statements is NOT true about vitamin pills?
- A. Most of them are useless.
 - B. They darken people’s urine.
 - C. They can replace medicine.
 - D. People spend millions of dollars on these pills every year.
10. According to the speaker, why do people “leap into the arms of Big Placebo?”
- A. They believe in evidence and science.
 - B. They believe in magic and what they think they see.
 - C. They believe in government officials.
 - D. They believe in the health care system.

SECTION THREE: To find work you love, don’t follow your passion

11. What point does the speaker try to make with the survey of 500 Canadian students?
- A. Canadians, especially Canadian youths, should not be so fanatical about ice-hockey and dance.
 - B. Census data is vital to career-related research.
 - C. Passion does not necessarily lead to career success.
 - D. Canadians should choose more practical jobs rather than jobs in art, sport and music.
 - E. None of the above.
12. According to the speaker, what is the most essential quality of a fulfilling job?
- A. It should bring people a satisfactory income.
 - B. It should bring people the joy of success.
 - C. It should perfectly match people’s interests so that people can enjoy themselves even at work.
 - D. It should allow people to make a difference in a particular field.
 - E. None of the above is correct.
13. Which of the following points does the speaker try to make with the example of salespeople?
- A. Salespeople should closely monitor their health to avoid burnout.
 - B. It is wrong to believe that following passion is the best career advice available.
 - C. People should be very cautious about passion match because it determines their career development.
 - D. Successful people may still feel unfulfilled.
 - E. Salespeople need to be more extroverted and assertive.
14. Which of the following statements is INCORRECT?
- A. People who believe interests are vital to career development fully understand that interests are changing.
 - B. The speaker urges people to be more altruistic when making career choices.
 - C. The idea of “achievement” Prof. Seligman proposes requires people to improve their work skills.
 - D. People want those who create value for others to succeed.
 - E. None of the above.

Please circle the letter corresponding to the correct answer. Name in Pinyin: _____

15. Which of the following inferences about Prof. Seligman's book is INCORRECT?
- A. The key suggestions in the book can be summarized as a single slogan: Do what is valuable.
 - B. The idea of "meaning" Prof. Seligman proposes stresses the importance of one's work competence.
 - C. Prof. Seligman would agree with the quote "A man's true wealth is the good he does in this world."
 - D. The book summarizes the empirical research on life satisfaction in the past decades.
 - E. None of the above.

This is the end of the quiz.

Be sure that you have put your name in pinyin, student ID, and section number on every page. Please wait quietly until your instructor or test monitor collects your answer sheet.